Community Water Monitoring around Turkey Creek

Date and Time: Thursday, October 16 6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Address: Meet in the parking lot of the pickleball court of Vince Marcotte Park in LaSalle

Learn about our local waterways and aquatic wildlife while helping to collect data that feeds into scientific research on harmful algae blooms in Lake Erie.

Based out of the University of Windsor, The Real-Time Aquatic Ecosystem Observation Network (RAEON) operates and deploys cutting-edge technologies and provides expertise that helps scientists study the health of the Great Lakes. As part of a project supported by the Canada Water Agency, RAEON is welcoming volunteers to participate in Community-Based Water Monitoring events at various sites around LaSalle and beyond.

Together, we will learn how to collect water quality data, get hands-on experience with water monitoring instruments, use community science apps, record observations of plants and animals, and take some time to enjoy nature together.

This event will run for approximately two hours, and we will visit three sites around Turkey Creek and the Detroit River.

Registration is encouraged. To register, please contact emillar@uwindsor.ca, or visit raeon.org/cbwm for more information.

POLIO INFORMATION:

Polio is a paralyzing and potentially fatal disease that still threatens children in some parts of the world.

For more than 35 years, Rotary and our partners have driven the effort to eradicate polio worldwide. Today, we have reduced polio cases by 99.9 percent, and just two countries continue to report cases of wild poliovirus: Afghanistan and Pakistan.

Because of the efforts of Rotary and its partners, nearly 19 million people who would otherwise have been paralyzed are walking, and more than 1.5 million people are alive who would otherwise have died.

Since 2007 all funds raised in the fight to end Polio by Rotary have been matched 2:1 by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, making your donation go much farther in eradicating Polio worldwide.

When this disease is eradicated, it will be only the second disease to be wiped off the face of the earth, the first being smallpox.
